PUA stands for “Private Use Areas” Unlike Open Type based fonts, PUA encoded fonts include additional characters that ARE accessible via any program that supports fonts.. When configured in blocking mode, PUA files are moved to the quarantine When a PUA is detected on an endpoint, Microsoft Defender for Endpoint for Mac presents a notification to the user, unless notifications have been disabled.. PUA stands for “Private Use Areas” When a font is PUA encoded it means that you can access all special characters such as the flourishes and swirly lines through Windows and Mac and that you can load them into applications such as Cricut Design Space and Silhouette Studio.
